PORQUEROLLES

DOMAINE DE L'ILE 2022 ROSÉ

92+/100

Instantly brilliant in the glass, the 2022 Cotes de Provence Rose Porquerolles is an attractive wine evoking aromas of iodine, spices, menthol, red berries, lime and crushed stone. Precise and crystalline with pristine balance, it's tense, vibrant and energetic with notes of iodine on the salty finish. A perfect expression of schists soils. Bravo! This is a blend of Grenache, Syrah, Mourvèdre, Cinsault and Tibouren.

The 2022 Rosé is beautifully textured and expansive, with notable radiant intensity running through a core of red berry and blood orange fruit. Sweet floral and mineral accents bring it all together on the resonant finish. Delicious.

This rosé is a blend of Grenache, Cinsault, Syrah, Mourvèdre and 5% Tibouren, a grape which gives purity and primary cherry fruit flavours – in future vintages the proportion of Tibouren will increase, with Syrah decreasing. The 2022 vintage was a fairly hot vintage, and this rosé is deeper in colour than some other Provence rosés. But it's as fresh as a daisy, with gorgeous cherry, redcurrant and watermelon fruit flavours, some warm white peach notes and a faint hint of menthol. Supple and medium bodied with a hint of salinity on the finish, this would be delicious served with shellfish, or alone.

The 2022 Côtes De Provence Porquerolles Rosé is a terrific rosé that's made in a richer, textured style compared to many Côtes de Provence rosés. Sporting a lighter salmon color as well as terrific aromatics of orange blossom, wild strawberries, and sappy flowers, it hits the palate with medium-bodied richness, a layered, seamless mouthfeel, ample fruit, good acidity, and a lengthy, dry finish. It's beautifully done and a classy rosé that will shine on the dinner table or on its own on a hot summer day.

Certified organic. From an estate on an island off the Provence coast owned by the Chanel team, so benefiting from expertise shared with Chx Canon and Rauzan-Ségla. Blend of Mourvèdre, Grenache, Syrah, Cinsault and Tibouren.

Defiantly much deeper than most Provence rosés with a tomato-coloured tinge. There's an unexpected but far from unpleasant scent of liquorice on the nose and definite salinity, and a little bitterness (though less than on the white version) on the end. Obviously fairly low acid but it's really interesting and refreshing. I love the fact that it has so much more character and refreshment than most of its peers. A truly individual wine.

D'une belle couleur ardente tirant vers la mangue, il s'épanche au nez dans une salve d'arômes : pêche, curry, fraise, iode, maquis... ronde et suave, la bouche est dynamique jusqu'en finale, agréablement acidulée avec son élégance saline, ses notes de cerise, cranberry, baies de goji.

Couleur mangue. Nez orange, abricot, bouche riche, finale saline, du potentiel de garde.
