2019 NAPA VALLEY ESTATE ÉLU

The 2019 Élu has an intense dark ruby color with ripe blackberry, blueberry, mocha, dried fig and crushed black pepper aromatics. The wine is full-bodied and layered with fine grain tannin structure and refinement. On the palate, the velvety texture highlights juicy black plum, cassis, dusty cocoa powder, and notes of roasted espresso with a lingering finish.

JAMES SUCKLING.COM

"An array of ripe blackberries and blueberries, blue flowers, chocolate, licorice and pinewood. Some hazelnuts, too. Full body and a firm texture with fine-grained tannins and delicious fruit. Polished and refined with a lingering, velvety mouth-feel. Deep and long. Already really tasty."

- James Suckling, February 2022

JEB DUNNUCK

"Based on 71% Cabernet Sauvignon, 18% Merlot, and the rest a mix of Bordeaux varieties, the 2019 Red Blend Estate Elu is a forward, opulent, undeniably delicious red that has some spicy oak, notes of cassis and tobacco, medium to full body, and ripe tannins."

WINE ADVOCATE

"It's gently herbal and leafy on the nose but nicely complex, with blueberries and cherries alongside hints of cedar and vanilla. In the mouth, the wine is composed and refined, medium to full-bodied, silky and suave, ending on notes of dark chocolate and cola-like spice."

- Joe Czerwinski, March 2023
